My Wife's Hand.

Every night when the stars come out,
And the birds have gone to rest,
A little hand, like a cooing dove,
Nestles about my breast;

Smooths my forhead and pats my cheeks;
Passes its finger tips
Over my eyelids and through my hair,
Lingering on my lips;

Clings to my neck and clasps my arm,
Till, tired of its caress,
And fallen asleep within my own,
That pure white hand I press.

Many a year has come and gone;
The little hand is cold;
Childrens' children are on my knee,
And I am growing old.

Yet, each night, as the stars come out,
And I near the heavenly land,
I feel as I felt in my early days,
The touch of that gentle hand.

THE FATE OF THE APOSTLES.—All the Apostles were assailed by the enemies of their masters. They were called to seal their doctrines with their blood, and nobly did they bear the trial. Sconumacher says:

St. Matthew suffered martyrdom by being slain with a sword, at a distant city of Ethiopia.

St. Marks expired at Alexandria, after having been cruelly dragged through the streets of the city.

St. Luke was hanged upon an Olive tree in the classic land of Greece.

St. John was put in a cauldron of boiling oil, but escaped death in a miraculous manner, and was afterwards punished at Patmos.

St. Peter was crushed at Rome, with head downward.

St. James the Greater was beheaded at Jerusalem.

St. James the Lesser was thrown from a lofty pinacle of temple and then beaten to death with a fuller's club.

St. Bartholomew was flayed alive.

St. Andrew was bound to a cross, whence he preached to his persecutors until he died.

St. Thomas was run through the body with a lance, at Coromandel, in the East Indies.

St. Jude was shot to death with arrows.

St. Mathew was first stoned and then beheaded.

St. Barnabas of the Gentiles was stoned to death by the Jews at Salonica.

St. Paul, after various tortures and persecutions, was at length beheaded at Rome by the Emperor Nero.

Such was the fate of the Apostles, according to traditional statements.

ADVICE WORTH KNOWING.—Zchokke, in one of his tales, gives the following advice to a bride: In the first solitary hour after the ceremony, take the bridegroom and demand a solemn vow of him and give him a vow in return. Promise each other sacredly, never, nor in jest, to wrangle with each other—never to bandy words or to indulge in the least ill-humor. Never—I say never. Wrangling in jest and putting on an air of ill-humor merely to tease, becomes earnest by practice. Mark that! Next, promise to each other, sincerely and solemnly, never to keep a secret from each other, under whatever pretext, and whatever excuse it might be. You must continually and every moment see clearly into each others bosom. Even when one of you has committed a fault, wait not an instant, but confess it. Let it cost tears, but confess it. And as you keep secret nothing from each other, so on the contrary, preserve the privacies of your house, marriage state and heart from father, mother, sister, brother, aunt and all the world. You two, with God's help, build your own quiet world. Every third or fourth one you draw into it with you, will form a party, and stand between you two. That should never be. Promise this to each other. Remember the vow at each temptation. You will find your account in it. Your souls will grow, as it were, to each other, and at last will become as one. Ah, if many a pair had, on their wedding day, known this secret, how many a marriage were happier than, alas, they are!

A MASS OF FIRE.—The crust of the earth on which we live is only thirty miles thick. Below that depth the earth is incandescent, a mass of fire. The great volcanic chimneys of Popocatapetl, in Mexico, and Cotopaxi in South America, are vents for this internal fire. The recent tremendous earthquake which overwhelmed entire cities and their inhabitants; and made a funeral waste of the coast of Peru, Ecuador and Chile, shows that nature is still subject to terrific convulsions. The old theological view of such heart-rending catastrophes was that they were punishments for sin. But the very constitution of the globe renders such upheavals inevitable. Doubtless the volcanic regions of South America would be subject to such visitations if not a single human being dwelt on its borders. But even the scientific man must stand appalled and helpless in the presence of such a fearful phenomenon. When the firm earth itself ceases to be reliable, and is more treacherous than the ocean in a storm, then man is completely dismayed. We seem to have entered upon an era of earthquakes. The destruction of property on the western coast of South America by the earthquakes of August last is reckoned at $200,000,000, and 60,000 human beings were crushed to death. No wonder that the people of the tropics are more superstitious, unthrifty and careless of the future than the people of the temperate latitude, when a few moments of subterranean convulsions will wipe out of existence the works and accumulated capital of generations.—[Exchange.

WHAT A MAN WANTS HIS WIFE TO KNOW.—There are certain things a man wants his wife to know, which are never learned at ladies' seminaries, and but too seldom, we fear, at home. One would like his wife to know how to make a shirt. Ever so rich, it would be a comfortable sensation to think she made it; yet there are some who cannot even sew on a button. To be able to cook a beefsteak properly, or roast a joint to a turn—to make savory sauce, or dish up a fricasee—to cook one's husband a good dinner; in short, if need be, what every woman ought to know, and what very few do know, until obliged to learn it. It is a solemn fact that not one marriageable girl in twenty can make a really good cup of coffee.

Wheat in California.

There are many varieties of wheat raised in this State; but the favorite seed, to-day, is very decidedly the "White Australia." The wheat of the days of the Padres, or at least that found here at the American occupation, was the "California Club," a variety found mixed with other wheat, all over the State, but nowhere cultivated by itself, that I know of. It is a poor yielder but a hardy grain, with short-bearded head, and a plump, dark berry, producing a yellowish flour, with little body. It is a curious fact, that whenever a farmer neglects to change his seed and lets it "run out," it approximates in appearance this "California Club;" and moreover, it is singular that it is found scattered in almost every field in the State—certainly every one in this portion. Like the Spanish horses and the "Mission Grape," this variety is so completely naturalized as to disguise its origin. The first variety introduced by the Americans was the Chili wheat, white and red. The red has disappeared; but the "White Chili" is still very popular, especially in the Sacramento and San Joaquin valleys. It is a beardless wheat with a strong straw, a fair yielder, producing a short, plump berry, which gives a very white flour with little body. The tendency of Chili wheat, in this climate, is to become shorter and smaller than the original seed.

At about 1854, white and red Australian seed was introduced. The red has entirely disappeared, being probably bleached out. It is a good yielder, and is our most popular grain, among both farmers and millers, especially near the sea-shore. The straw is slim, which is an objection to it; the head is beardless, long, and full of grain—but easily shelling out the kernels, in windy localities. The berry is long and slim, and it makes our best flour. It varies from the original Australia seed in being longer and thinner; for these reasons it is not esteemed by exporters, who prefer the rounder grains.

In 1858, Sonora seed appeared, extended rapidly over the State, and rapidly disappeared. To-day it is but little raised. It came from Sonora in Mexico; is a poor yielder, but has a strong straw, and holds its grain firmly in the head. This, and the fact that it can be sown very late in the season, constitute its main advantage. It produces a beautiful, bright, plump wheat, but the kernel is small and flinty. The flour from it is yellow and short. Another variety of wheat, and a very excellent one, called "Chili Club," is largely raised north of San Pablo and Suisun bays—but I do not know its origin. It yields well, and is a stout grain, proof against high winds. Moreover, being white, plump and handsome, it is a great favorite with exporters; but it does not produce as fine a flour as some other varieties. There are many other kinds of seed sown here, but none worthy of note. Before leaving this part of our subject, it is well to note the different qualities of wheat resulting from geographical or local causes. All the wheat raised on the sea is soft, damp and dark, with a very thick skin, while that raised inside the Coast Range, protected from fogs, is bright, and very hard and dry, with a thin skin. Between these extremes is every shade of difference Again, certain sections, (such as Santa Clara) are noted for the strong, glutinous quality of wheat, called "body" or "strength," so highly prized for bakers' flour and for macaroni. This is discernible especially in dry seasons, and on gravelly soils—particularly on new land. This gives "body" to flour; but what produces it in the wheat, I do not know. Every district has its peculiarities, and experts can readily pronounce within a few miles of where any sample is raised.—[Overland Monthly.

A DISCUSSION ABOUT EGGS.—In the fairest village of Western New York, the "cullud possens," in emulation of their white brethren, formed a debating society, for the purpose of improving their minds by the discussion of instructive and entertaining topics. The deliberations of the society were presided over by a venerable darkey, who performed the duties with the utmost dignity peculiar to his color. The subject for discussion on the occasion of which we write was: "Which am de mudder of de chicken—de hen wot lay de egg, or de hen wot hatch de chick?" The questions was warmly debated, and many reasons pro and con were urged and compared by the excited disputants, those in favor of the latter proposition evidently in the majority, and the President made no attempt to conceal that his sympathies were with the dominant party. At length an intelligent darkey arose from the minority side, and begged leave to state a proposition to this effect: "S'pose," said he, "dat you set one dozen duck's eggs under under a hen, and dey hatch, which am de mudder, de duck or de hen?" This was a poser, was well put, and nonplused the other side, even staggering the President, who plainly saw the force of the argument, but had committed himself too far to yield without a struggle; so after cogitating and scratching his wool a few minutes a bright idea struck him. Rising from his chair in all the pride of conscious superiority, he announced: "Ducks am not before de house; chickens am de question; derfore I rule de ducks out," and do it he did, to the complete overthrow of the opponents.

HAVING A PICTURE TAKEN.—When a lady, sitting for a picture, would compose herself to a bland and serene character, she should, just before entering the room, say "Bosom," and keep the expression into which the mouth subsides until the desired effect on the company is evident. If, on the other hand, she wishes to assume a distinguished and somewhat noble bearing, not suggestive of sweetness, she should say "Brush," the result of which is infallible. If she would make her mouth look small, she must say "Flip;" but if the mouth be already too small and needs enlarging, she must say "Cabbage." If she wishes to look mournful, she must say "Kerchunk;" if resigned, she must forcibly ejaculate "S'cat."

A TEMPERANCE LECTURER, descanting on the superior virtues of cold water, remarked: "When the world had become so corrupt that the Lord could do nothing with it, he was obliged to give it a thorough sousing in cold water." "Yes," replied a toper present, "but it killed every critter on the face of the earth."

A Workshop on the Farm.

There are many persons who appear to think that a farmer's qualifications should not extend beyond the mere ability to hold a plow, wield a scythe or cradle, manage a mowing machine or direct the operations of a power thresher. This is a most pernicious error, and one that should be corrected. Perhaps no other industrial pursuit is so intimately connected, not only with every department of science, but with almost every branch of mechanics, as agriculture. It is, of course, not expected that a farmer shall be a skilled mechanic also, but every farmer has it in his power to acquire sufficient practical knowledge of several of the leading mechanical branches, to render himself, if not entirely at least comparatively, independent of the blacksmith, machinist, etc.

The vast increase in the number and variety of agricultural implements demands, on the part of those using them, some knowledge at least of the principles involved in their construction. This is important, first, because it enables them, when purchasing, to form an approximatively correct opinion in regard to their working merits; second, it fits them to be judges of the style of workmanship and the character of the materials; and thirdly, when difficulties occur, such as the breaking of any of the parts, or the disarrangement of others, they proceed intelligently in regard to the needed repairs, or the proper adjustment of the disarranged parts.

Every farm should have a workshop and tool-house—a place where the farmer should have always on hand such tools as are needed to keep his wagons, plows, harness, fences, etc., in good repair. It is not to be expected that he will be able to do all his repairing, or that his workshop will enable him to dispense entirely with the services of the blacksmith, the carpenter or the saddler, but it will certainly save him many a trip to the smith and carpenter, when time is most precious. It will afford him pleasant and profitable occupation in weather that forbids outdoor labor. It becomes a stimulus to effort on the part of his boys, and prompts them to so familiarize themselves with the use of tools, that in the majority of cases, they are able to do many things which are now done by the practical mechanic, and which always involve greater or less expense. The importance of such a workshop can scarcely be overestimated.

Those who have tested its value (and there are many such), could not be prevailed upon to dispense with it, for any reasonable consideration. Did space permit, we would cite a thousand cogent reasons in its favor, but this is not necessary. It requires but a moment's consideration on the part of any farmer to satisfy himself that a workshop supplied with the best of tools, and enough of them, is one of the most profitable investments he can make.—[Journal of the Farm.

THE FARMER'S DAUGHTER AND THE ROBBER.—A farmer living a few miles from Easton, sent his daughter on horseback to the town, to procure from the bank smaller notes in exchange for one of one hundred dollars. When she arrived there, the bank was shut, and she endeavored to effect her object by offering it at seven stores, but could not get her note changed. She had not gone far on her return, when a stranger rode up to the side of her horse, and accosted her with so much politeness that she had not the slightest suspicion of any evil intention on his part. After riding a mile or two, employed in very social conversation, they came to a very retired part of the road, and the gentleman commanded her to give him the bank note. It was with some difficulty that she could be made to believe him in earnest, as his demeanor had been very friendly; but the presentation of a pistol placed the matter beyond a doubt, and she yielded to necessity. Just as she gave the note to him, a sudden puff of wind blew it into the road, and it lodged several yards from them The discourteous knight alighted to overtake it, and the lady whipped her horse to get out of his power, and the other horse, which had been left standing by her side, started off with her. His owner fired a pistol, which only tended to increase the speed of all parties—and the lady arrived safely at home with the horse of the robber, on which was a pair of saddle-bags. When these were opened, they were found to contain, besides a quantity of counterfeit bank notes, fifteen hundred dollars in good money! The horse was a good one, and when saddled and bridled was thought to be worth as much at least as the bank note that was stolen.

COMPOSITION—ON THE WASP.—The wasp are a little bit of yellow bird. He builds his nest in houses. The nest looks like a honeycomb, but the wasp don't make any honey, at least I never heard of their making any, and believe I would have heard of it if they ever did. Boys sometimes fight wasps. The horn is very fine and sharp, and when a fellow catches him in his hand, the wasp will stick his bill in his hand, and hurts like blazes, and you can hardly make him let go, for he seems to think that the tail hold is a good hold. Take him all in all I don't like to fight a fair fight with a wasp. The end.

A PHENOMENON.—The Santa Rosa Democrat of November 14th says: Ira Collier, of Bennet Valley, a few miles from Santa Rosa, had great difficulty in getting sufficient water from the well on his premises to supply his family until the occurrence of the recent earthquake. Upon the happening of that shocking event, the water rose to a level with the top of the well, and has remained there ever since. Some sixty acres of dry land, also belonging to Mr. Collier, are now so wet that ditching will be necessary before working the same.

TO RAISE WATERMELONS WITHOUT SEEDS. The following plan has been successfully adopted by a planter in Caddo parish, Louisiana: After the vine is about two feet long, cover the vine at a point intermediate between the top and the root. After it his taken root where it is covered, divide the vine between the old and new root, and the result will be that the melons will be seedless, without impairing their quality.

PLINY observed that there was no book so apparently trifling but that a good lesson might be extracted from it.

YOLO COUNTY DEMOCRAT.

STAURDAY, : : : NOVEMBER 28, 1868.

L. P. FISHER, 20 and 21 New Merchant's Exchange, is our authorized agent in San Francisco. For Eastern Advertising, Mr. Fisher is represented by S. M. Pettengill & Co., of New York and Boston.

WEATHER-WISE.—Those who have time to spare in reading the insipid dissertations on the weather with which the papers are flooded, must be amused at the presumption of the prophetic writers. The flight of a flock of birds, the cackling of a goose, or the motion of a fleecy gossamer is deemed a sufficient foundation by these wiseacres for the structure of a long chapter of advice to the merchant, mechanic and farmer, in view of future contingencies in the laws of nature which must assume a shape exactly in accordance with the prediction of the self-constituted prophets. We are told by these easy-chair philosophers that this or that season will be a wet or dry one, with as much assurance as might be expected from one gifted with supernatural power, while the farmer, who, more than any one else, might be supposed to know something of the shadows which precede coming events, quietly laughs at the foolish predictions of false prophets, and prepares his grounds, trusting in an inscrutable Providence whose ways are past finding out.

CONSOLING.—Notwithstanding the most eminent physicians have repeatedly urged the people of San Francisco to avail themselves of the precaution of vaccination for the prevention of that terrible malady—the small-pox—very many have recklessly disregarded the injunction, either through foolish superstition or wanton bravado, and are now suffering the terrible consequences. The disease still rages in its fury, and the question now is, how long must the plague be endured? On this subject, the Bulletin offers the following consolation:

There is one ground of hope. When all those who have obstinately refused to be vaccinated have died off, the city will have reasonable immunity from small-pox. Another encouraging fact is, that the Winter rains have set in, and while in some respects they are not accounted favorable to the disease, they will perform the long-neglected work of cleansing the city. When some hundreds of tons of filth have been washed down to the sea, and the last man has died who has absolutely refused to be vaccinated, we expect to be able to announce that there is no further danger that the small-pox will be epidemic in this city.

MESSRS. REDINGTON & Co., of San Francisco, have become the regular authorized wholesale agents for the sale of DRAKE'S PLANTATION BITTER'S for the Pacific Coast, Oregon, and the Territories. These celebrated Bitters are now one of the institutions of the country, and their sale is a business of itself enormously large, amounting to many thousands of dollars monthly. Every ship that arrives from New York is laden with large quantities of them. No less than ten thousand cases are kept constantly afloat, and are being distributed to all parts of the country by this enterprising house. The best proof that they are just what is wanted for this climate is the already large sale, and the constantly increasing demand with all classes of the people. No Bitters have ever yet been introduced which have become so deservedly popular, and so worthy the patronage of all who require a tonic and stimulant. They are prepared with pure St. Croix Rum, Calisaya, Cascarilla Bark, etc., and all the world know what beneficial results accrue from a combination of these articles.

DAMAGES.—The News Letter got $4,813 28; the Franco American $2,500; Derbec, for a French paper, $7,500; and the Examiner $10,000, from the city of San Francisco, for damages done those papers by the mob of 1865—and that is far less than they were offered before going into Court.—[Bee.

And that is far more than they would have received had the question been decided by some editors we know of, who have openly applauded the action of a disgraceful mob in the destruction of printing presses.

SAVE HIM.—The editor of the Vallejo Chronicle desires, "for the love of goodness to be preserved from the Sacramento hackdrivers." Rob not a printer's purse, nor cut him off in the blossom of his sins! Hackman, spare the printer. Your professional brothers down in the city of Vallejo are righteous and lenient toward all except outside and transient barbarians! Who hath woes? The backmen of Sacramento.

TO HIS POST.—Senator Casserly left last week for Washington, where, in a short time he will assume the duties of his office. He carries with him the good wishes of all conservatives. Perhaps no other man ever entered upon official duties in times like these, who enjoyed more generally the confidence and respect of his constituents.

AN INDUCEMENT.—The Healdsburg Flag offers to publish marriages, births and deaths gratuitously, and hopes that the disposition of its patrons will become general to help fill its local columns. Won't somebody die or get married to furnish an item for the Flag?

EARTHQUAKE INVESTIGATIONS.—An earthquake investigating committee has been appointed in San Francisco. They have decided to raise $20,000 to defray expenses of the investigation and experiments they intend making.

GRAIN.—Wheat is quoted in the San Francisco market at from $1 75 to $1 80. Barley $2 10 to $2 25. Oats $1 55 to $1 90.

BY TELEGRAPH.

[SPECIAL TO THE YOLO COUNTY DEMOCRAT.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 27, 1868.

Thanksgiving-day was generally observed throughout the city; there was a suspension of all business. Services were held in all places of worship, and largely attended. The recreation grounds were well patronized, and everything passed off pleasantly. In the list of amusements, were base-ball, foot-races, hurdle-races, etc.

Eight thousand turkeys were sold at the different stalls the day before; one single firm, Hart & Goodman, disposed of thirty-three hundred, and, I understand, the finest came from the vicinity of Woodland.

Steamer Sacramento, from Panama, after an unusually tedious trip of twenty-six days, arrived yesterday; passengers all well.

The steamer Enterprise, of the new opposition line to Colusa, having met with a mishap six miles above Sacramento, arrived here this morning all right, landing her eight thousand sacks of wheat in fine condition.

The Supreme Court of Florida sustains Gov. Reed's position unanimously. It decides that no Legislature assembled under Gov. Reed's proclamation for an extra session, and if it had been a legal assembly the form of impeachment was irregular and not in accordance with law and precedents. It declares that the mere passage of resolutions of impeachment does not impeach.

Condition of Things in Alabama.

A correspondent of the Solano Sentinel, writing from Montgomery, (Ala) gives a sad account of affairs in that and adjoining States. The letter closes with the earnest hope that a beneficient Providence may direct future legislation so that peace and prosperity may make glad the sorrowful hearts of our people, and that fraternal relations once restored, will never be broken. The following extract vividly presents a reason for the expression of such a desire:

The jails of the country are full of criminals, and murder, rapes and robberies are of frequent occurrence. You have no doubt heard of the diabolical plot to burn and sack the city of Tuscumbia. It was discovered before any serious damage had been done, although one of the public building was destroyed. The negroes are all armed and depredate upon the property of the whites with impunity. Farms and gardens, in the vicinity of the cities are ravaged, and stock and poultry stolen and destroyed by the idle negroes, who think they have a right to live without work.

All the material interests of the country are languishing. Many Northern men who bought property in our State, have abandoned it and returned home, in consequence of the unsettled condition of affairs. Our taxes are most onerous, and they amount almost to confiscation. Every inducement is offered to capitalists by our people. We need an enterprising, industrious population to develop the incalculable resources of this country, build up the waste places and restore that degree of prosperity which was once our boast. But unless some remedy is found for the existing evils, the day of our redemption is far distant. As long as itinerant politicians, scalawags and renegades control the negroes, insecurity must exist. The greater number of the colored people are orderly and well disposed and would make good citizens if let alone, but they are taught to believe that the rights of the white people are subservient to the African race. It is true that frequent outrages and acts of lawlessness have been committed by white men, but they have resulted from a condition of utter despair, consequent upon long concentrated and unnaturally repressed passion.

NEWS IN BRIEF.

An insane woman, in San Francisco, bit her husband's nose off last week....The small-pox is creating a panic at San Juan South....The Suscol Branch Railroad Company have filed articles of incorporation....There are 6,663 names on the Great Register of Sonoma county....A rich quartz ledge has been discovered in Calaveras county....The stock of wheat in San Francisco has been estimated at one million centals....The silk growers of Sacramento are meeting with success....The building of the Young Men's Christian Association in San Francisco has been completed at a cost of $60,000....The Capital Woolen Mills at Sacramento commenced operation last week.....Capt. SMALL-POX.—This terrible disease appears to be steadily on the increase in San Francisco, and is spreading more generally over the country than heretofore. The California Medical Gazette, published at San Francisco, says:

On inquiring at the Health Office a few days since, we were informed that the reported new cases were increasing at the rate of ten per cent. daily; and this in spite of our having a Health Officer, and an Assistant Health Officer for the epidemic, and public vaccinators. Something surely must be wrong; proper preventive means must be neglected, or there must be gross inefficiency in some department, else this preventible epidemic would not march on with gathering mortality for the past five months.

SEEKING TERRA FIRMA.—Since the recent heavy earthquake shock in San Francisco quite a number of families have left that city in search of more safe localities. It is not surprising that these dread visitations should alarm the people. A few more such shakes as the last one and the soothing words of learned philosophers will hardly be sufficient to calm the fears of those who are in constant danger of being shaken out of their boots.

REDINGTON & CO'S ESSENCE OF JAMAICA GINGER!

This valuable preparation, containing in a highly concentrated form all the properties of Jamaica Ginger, has become one of the most popular domestic remedies for all diseases of the stomach and digestive organs.

As a tonic, it will be found invaluable to all persons recovering from debility, whether produced by fever, or otherwise; for while it imparts to the system all the glow and vigor that can be produced by wine or brandy, it is entirely free from the reactionary effects that follow the use of spirits of any kind.

It is also an excellent remedy for females who suffer from difficult menstruation, giving almost immediate relief to the spasms that so frequently accompany that period.

It gives immediate relief to Nausea, caused by riding in a railroad car, or by sea-sickness, or other causes.

It is also valuable as an external application for Gout, Rheumatism, Neuralgia, etc.

HELMBOLD'S BUCHU.

The only Known Remedy

—FOR—

For these diseases, it is truly a sovereign remedy, and too much cannot be said in its praise. A single dose has been known to relieve the most urgent symptoms. Are you troubled with that disgusting pain in the small of the back and through the hips? A teaspoonful a day of Helmbold's Buchu will relieve you.

Physicians and Others

PLEASE NOTICE.

I make no secret of ingredients. Helmbold's Extract Buchu is composed of Buchu, Cubebs and Juniper Berries, selected with care, prepared in vacuo and according to the rules of Pharmacy and Chemistry.

These ingredients are known as the most valuable Diuretics afforded. A Diuretic is that which acts upon the Kidneys. Helmbold's Extract Buchu acts gently. It is pleasant in taste and odor, free from all injurious properties, and immediate in its action. For the satisfaction of all, see Medical Properties contained in Dispensatory of the United States, of which the following is a correct copy:

"BUCHU. Its odor is strong, diffusive and somewhat aromatic, its taste bitterish, and analogous to that of mint. It is given chiefly in complaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, chronic catarrh of the Bladder, morbid irritation of the Bladder and Uretha, diseases of the Prostrate, and Retention or Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. It has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, chronic Rheumatism, cutaneous affections and Dropsy."

For further information see Professor Dewees' valuable works on the Practice of Physic. See remarks made by the celebrated Dr. Physic, of Philadelphia. See any and all standard works on Medicine.

Dr. Keyser is a physician of over thirty years' experience, and a graduate of the Jefferson Medical college and of the University of Medicine and Surgery of Philadelphia:

Mr. H. T. HELMBOLD—Dear Sir: In regard to the question asked me as to my opinion about Buchu, I would say that I have used and sold the article in various forms for the past thirty years. I do not think there is any form or preparation of it I have not used or known to be used, in the various diseases where such medicate agent would be indicated. You are aware, as well as myself, that it has been extensively employed in the various diseases of the bladder and kidneys; and the reputation it has acquired, in my judgment, is warranted by the facts. I have seen and used, as before stated, every form of Buchu—the powdered leaves, the simple decoction, tincture fluid extracts; and I am not cognizant of any preparation of that plant at all equal to yours. Eighteen years' experience ought, I think, to give me the right to judge of its merits, and without prejudice or partiality I give yours precedence over all others. I value your Buchu for its effects on patients. I have cured with it, and seen cured with it, more diseases of the bladder and kidneys than I have ever seen cured with any other Buchu, or any other proprietory compound of whatever name. Respectfully yours, etc.,

GEO. H. KEYSER, M. D., 140 Wood st.

FROM THE LARGEST MANUFACTURING CHEMIST IN THE WORLD.

I am acquainted with H. T. Helmbold; he occupies the drug store opposite my residence, and was successful in conducting the business where others had not been equally so before him. I have been favorably impressed with his character and enterprise. WM. WEIGHTMAN, (firm of Powers & Weightman), Manufacturing chemists, Ninth and Brown streets, Phila.

The proprietor has been induced to make this statement from the fact that his remedies, although advertised, are genuine preparations, and knowing that the intelligent refrain from using anything pertaining to Quackery, or the Patent Medicine order—most of which are prepared by self-styled doctors, who are too ignorant to read a physicians' simplest prescription, much less competent to prepare Pharmaceutical preparations. These parties resort to various means of effecting sales, such as copying parts of advertisements of popular remedies and finishing with certificates. The science of medicine stands simple, pure and majestic, having fact for its basis, induction for its pillar, truth alone for its capital.

A Word of Caution.

Health is most important; and the afflicted should not use an advertised medicine, or any remedy, unless its contents or ingredients are known to others besides the manufacturer, or until they are satisfied of the qualifications of the party so offering.

TOWN AND COUNTY MATTERS.

ARREST—QUICK WORK.—On Wednesday evening Sheriff Minis received a telegram, requesting him to arrest two parties suspicioned of being concerned in the crime of robbery. The accused were found in a few minutes afterward, taken in custody and delivered to the proper officers in Suisun at nine o'clock next morning, where they were met by the Sheriff of Sonoma county, who took the prisoners to Santa Rosa to await an examination on the charge. The offense is alleged to have been committed on the highway near Windsor, last Saturday evening. At that time the Petaluma and Healdsburg stage was stopped and four passengers robbed. The Express boxes, containing a large sum of money, were unmolested. We withhold the names of the parties arrested on this charge until an examination is held.

A GREAT MANY SIDE HITS are being made at the Plantation Bitters by a score or two of disinterested friends, who are endeavoring to imitate or counterfeit them. It is of no use. The people won't be imposed upon. Plantation Bitters are increasing in use and popularity every day. They are in the same sized bottle, and made just as they were at first. They make the weak strong, the languid brilliant, and are exhausted nature's great restorer. The recipe and full circular are around each bottle. Clergymen, Merchants, and persons whose sedentary habits induce weakness, dissitude, palpitation of the heart, lack of appetite, liver complaint, etc., will find immediate and permanent relief in these Bitters. But, above all, they are recommended to weak and delicate females and mothers.

COULDN'T EXPRESS IT.—"Johnny," the Woodland and Davisville stage-driver, tells a good one on a passenger who, being a stranger in these parts, saw many curiosities between the two points named, on his first trip over the road. Among other things that attracted his attention, was a beautiful squirrel, which he saw running across the road a short distance ahead of the team. Anxious to direct the attention of the driver to the object, but having an unfortunate impediment in his speech, he exclaimed: "L-look a-a-at t-t-t-that squi-squi-squi— n-n-never m-m-mind, t-t-the b-b-b-lamed t-thing has g-g-g-gone in h-his h-h-h-h-h-ole."

LOCATED.—Dr. E. L. Parramore, late of Accomac, Virginia, has recently settled in Knight's Landing, where he intends resuming the practice of medicine. The Doctor is a graduate of the Medical University of Maryland, and comes among us with the presage of good recommendations from high sources. We welcome him to our county, and trust that he and his excellent lady may enjoy the pleasures of a permanent home at Knight's Landing.

A SUCCESS.—The Ladies' Festival at Templar Hall, on Thursday evening, was quite a success. A much larger crowd than was anticipated by the managers, attended, and everything passed off very pleasantly. The visitors were liberal, and a large sum was contributed for a worthy purpose, i. e. liquidating the Hall debt of the Good Templars.

THIRTY DOLLARS FOR A SHIRT.—At the Ladies' Festival on Thanksgiving evening, among other articles belonging to a gentleman's wardrobe, a shirt was put up for raffle. Thirty chances were immediately taken at $1 a chance. The bosom of a serene bachelor was ruffled, that is, he won the prize and arrayed himself in the fluted linen.

PROSPEROUS.—At Knight's Landing and vicinity a number of valuable improvements have been made. Roads have been laid out and constructed, new houses erected, etc., etc., all of which is to the credit of the spirit and enterprise of the farmers and other business men of that locality.

ALMOST A FIRE.—Early on Thursday morning a fire broke out in Bently & Simpson's Saloon, but was subdued by the prompt exertions of parties who happened to be present. The fire originated from a defective stove-pipe. Look out for stove-pipes.

EGGS AND POULTRY.—There was a lively demand in town for eggs and poultry on Thanksgiving day. The demand will very likely continue until after the Christmas and New Year holidays.

ROADS.—The county roads, generally speaking, are in excellent condition at this time. The excavation of—a turkey was completed on Thursday by one of the County Road Overseers.

PLOWING.—In some localities farmers have been engaged in plowing since the rain, and in all parts of the county active preparations are being made for planting the next crop.

HUNTING PARTY.—A party of hunters, efficiently armed, equipped and provisioned, left town yesterday morning to hunt duck and geese on the placid waters of Putah creek.

THANKSGIVING DAY.—On Thursday the various schools in the county, enjoyed a holiday, and the citizens generally engaged in exercises appropriate for the occasion.

HIGH WATER.—The destruction of the Clear Lake dam has caused a rapid rise in Cache creek, and large ponds of water to accumulate in the tules.

DAVISVILLE.—A number of business houses and residences are in course of erection at Davisville. The town has assumed quite a lively appearance.

ELECTRO SILICON.—This curious and valuable substance is confidently claimed to be the BEST ARTICLE ever discovered for cleaning and polishing Gold, Silver and Plated Ware, and all smooth metallic surfaces, of whatever description, including kitchen utensils of tin, copper, brass, steel, etc.

TO HEADS OF FAMILIES.—Are your little ones subject to croup? If so, don't fail to use NEWELL'S PULMONARY SURUP. A few doses given in time MAY SAVE THE LIFE OF A DARLING CHILD. Do not fail to have it on hand, if you would be safe and free from anxiety.

"IN TIME OF PEACE PREPARE FOR WAR."—So get a bottle of DR. E. COOPER'S UNIVERSAL MAGNETIC BALM, an unequalled preparation for Dysentery, Diarrhœa and Cramp. The instantaneous relief for Burns, Bruises and Sprains.

OFFICIAL VOTE.—Monday next is the day appointed for the Secretary of State to canvass the returns from the various counties.

Proceedings of the Yolo County Teachers' Institute.

Pursuant to notice the Yolo County Teachers' Institute convened at Hesperian College, Woodland, on Thursday, the 19th of November, 1868, and was promptly called to order by Superintendant R. R. Darby, and further organized by electing J. C. Ball and F. E. Baker, Secretaries. A. H. Pratt and W. F. Dickinson were appointed Critics. Prof. J. M. Martin, F. X. Miller and J. M. Goode a Committee on Resolutions, with instructions to report on Saturday morning.

A resolution affirming the necessity of corporal punishment in school, was introduced by J. C. Ball, and discussed at length. The discussion on this resolution was very spirited, it being a feeling subject, and took up the time to adjournment, when further discussion was deferred until Friday morning.

On motion, Institute adjourned.

FRIDAY, Nov. 20, 1868.

Institute met at 9 o'clock A. M., and was called to order by Superintendent Darby. Roll called, and notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather, a large number of teachers were in attendance. Minutes read by Secretary and approved.

Superintendent Darby then rose, and in a clear and forcible manner delivered the following address:

LADIES AND GENTLEMEN: It affords me sincere pleasure to meet so many teachers and friends of education as are present to-day. We meet by a wise provision of law, to deliberate upon the great principles that underlie all society and form the index to our social and political systems. We have not met to promote our own interest or pleasure, but the interest of those to be committed to our charge who are yet to be prepared to act their part in the great drama of life; and, next to the sacred precepts of mother, the teacher wields the greatest influence in shaping the character and destiny of the child; and this influence, too, is exerted at an age when the mind is most susceptible of indelible impressions.

In the performance of our daily routine of school-room duties, we are treading on chords that will vibrate through eternity, and we cannot well over-estimate the responsibilities that rest upon us as educators of the young. We should more fully comprehend the word educate, which is derived from two small Latin words, E, from, or forth, and duco, to lead, and therefore means to lead forth, to draw out, to develop, morally, physically and intellectually. It is not enough that we teach our pupils to read, to write, and to solve the problems in all that is lofty, noble and requisite to qualify them to solve the great problems of life with honor to themselves and the age in which they live.

We should deem it a high privilege to be able to meet together under circumstances so favorable as surround us to-day, and engage in a free interchange of opinions, thoughts and suggestions for the common good, and avail ourselves of each other's experience, the better to qualify us for the discharge of those responsible duties devolving upon us as educators of the young. We should feel thankful for a school system that affords us such privileges, and venerate those bright intellects and scholarly attainments that have been devoted to making it what it is, and are still at the helm keeping it full up with the progress of the age. One year ago there were many fears and predictions expressed as to its future; but to-day it is as promising as the past has been satisfactory.

Since the last annual meeting of the Teachers of Yolo county, a change has taken place at the head of the State Department. The choice of a guardian for the educational interests of the State has been submitted to the intelligent voters of California, and the popular verdict was against Mr. Swett, and he retired from office amid the rejoicings of his enemies, and the regrets and misgivings of his friends. During the heated political contest that immediately preceded the retirement of Mr. Swett from office, severe strictures upon his official conduct were freely indulged in by some of his political opponents; but I believe, to-day, all are willing to cast the mantle of charity over his errors, and admit that his administration forms a page in the history of our schools of which we may feel justly proud. His successor has been in office now almost a year, and in his administration has met the most sanguine expectations of his friends and admirers, and signally disappointed those who predicted a failure. Instead of evil they have received good. He is here to-day, with his warm heart, genial spirits and high scholarly attainments, wholly devoted to the cause of Education.

Of our own county of Yolo, I can speak with pleasure and pride. Those who were present at our last Institute, may remember that a committee was then appointed to circulate a petition for the signatures of the tax-payers of the county, praying the Board of Supervisors to raise the county school tax from twenty-five, to thirty-five cents, on the one hundred dollars, the maximum allowed by law. Those petitions were freely circulated and numerously signed—signed, in fact, by nearly every tax-payer to whom they were presented. The Supervisors wisely acted in accordance with the prayer; the tax has been levied and collected, and I have met with but one man who objects to it. It now remains with you, Teachers, to see to it that the children receive an equivalent for their money.

And now, in conclusion, I desire to express my approbation and return to the Teachers of the county my sincere thanks for the uniform kindness and courtesy I have met with at their hands, and, on this occasion, to express the hope that our future intercourse will be as profitable as our past has been pleasant.

At the close of his address, Superintendent Darby invited State Superintendent O. P. Fitzgerald to take the Chair, and on doing which he delivered a few eloquent remarks, by way of encouragement to the Institute.

The resolution relating to corporal punishment was then taken up and discussed by J. Coates, J. C. Ball, R. R. Darby, Proff. Martin and G. Bagnell, and passed, after an able review of the arguments, pro and con, by the President.

E. J. Schellhous introduced the subject of Grammar, pending which a motion to adjourn prevailed, and the Institute adjourned to 2 o'clock.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

The State Superintendent in the Chair. Roll called. Minutes read and approved. Critics reported, making some good hits and merrited corrections. The subject of Grammar was resumed by Schellhous and Prof. Martin—the former contending for what he denominated his system, and the latter insisting, and pretty clearly proving, that there was nothing new in it.

A. H. Pratt's lecture on Algebra coming up in regular order, the subject was ably handled by that gentleman, who showed himself, though young, to be no tyro in the science.

Prof. H. Hollo and his class in Music favored the Institute with a few patriotic airs, well executed, exhibiting great proficiency on the part of the learners.

On motion, adjourned to meet at 7 o'clock P. M., at Templar Hall,

EVENING SESSION.

Institute met pursuant to adjournment. Superintendent Darby in the Chair. Roll called and reading of minutes dispensed with.

After singing by the class of Prof. Hollo, Superintendent O. P. Fitzgerald delivered an able address on the subject of Schools and Education, at the close of which the Institute tendered him a hearty vote of thanks for the interest manifested in the proceedings of the Institute.

Adjourned with music by Prof. Hollo's class.

SATURDAY, Nov. 21, 1868.

Institute met at 9 o'clock A. M. Superintendent Darby in the Chair. Roll called and minutes read and approved.

Prof. G. N. Freeman took up the subject of Mental Arithmetic, and by class exercise clearly demonstrated the high importance of giving early attention to this branch of science. The Professor's lecture occupied an hour, which well repaid the listeners.

F. E. Baker, then ably conducted a class in Written Arithmetic, showing himself to be master of his subject, and which called out much valuable information, deduced from the experience of the teachers present. At the close of Baker's lecture, Superintendent Darby offered a few excellent thoughts on the subject.

J. A. Bissell gave, by special request, a short lecture on Penmanship, which was well received, and, we think, convinced those teachers, who are not already convinced by experience, of the folly of attempting to teach penmanship in the old-fashioned way in school.

E. G. Schellhous offered a lecture on Elocution, and from the gentleman's remarks, it would seem he set at defiance all given rules on the subject. But before proceeding far, however, asked and obtained leave to read "a paper on Education," after recess.

Judge M. A. Woods was loudly called for, and in response, by class exercise, showed the Institute that he himself was not only an elocutionist, but that he knew how to teach it to others.

After music by Prof. Hollo's class, the Institute adjourned.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Institute met. Supt. Darby in the Chair. Roll called and minutes read and approved.

E. G. Schellhous, by leave, read a lengthy paper on Education.

The critics made an able report, in which they justly censured that which was wrong and applauded fairly wherever merit was exhibited. They were particularly happy in their "hit" of the lecturer on Elocution, in characterizing his position as the "Grecian bend."

The report of the Committee on Resolutions was then taken up as the special order, and after a spirited discussion, participated in by Prof. Martin, Baker, Dickinson, Ball, Pratt and Coates, the first of the series, affirming "that the self-reporting system, as practiced in schools, is detrimental to the morals of the pupils," was lost, and the following were passed:

WHEREAS, In order to maintain an efficient public school system it is necessary that the co-operation of parents and others, outside our immediate profession, be secured; therefore,

Resolved, That Quackenbos' Grammar fails to meet the wants of our public schools.

Resolved, That the study of physiology should be encouraged, and should be begun at an earlier age than it usually is in our public schools.

Resolved, That the study of Natural History should be introduced in our public schools.

Resolved, That the frequenting of saloons, and tippling, should be sufficient cause for revoking teachers' certificates.

The following resolution was offered by W. F. Dickinson:

Resolved, That the thanks of the Institute are hereby tendered to Prof. H. Hollo for sweet music discoursed by his admirable class during the sessions of the Institute.

By J. C. Ball:

Resolved, That the thanks of the Institute be, and are hereby tendered to Prof. J. M. Martin and the faculty of Hesperian College, for the use of College buildings during the sessions of the Institute.

By F. E. Baker:

Resolved, That the thanks of the Institute are hereby tendered Superintendent R. R. Darby for the able and impartial manner he has presided over the deliberations of the Institute.

By A. H. Pratt:

Resolved, That the thanks of the Institute are hereby tendered to J. C. Ball for the prompt and efficient manner in which he has discharged the duties of Secretary of the Institute.

Judge M. A. Woods moved that an abstract of the minutes of the proceedings of the Institute be furnished the California Teacher and our county papers for publication.

After the usual vote of thanks to the officers the Institute, adjourned under the sound of sweet music, discoursed by Prof. Hollo's admirable class.

There are no stock-holders to get the largest share of its profits, as in the "Continental," "North America," "Manhattan," and other credit Companies. Beware of part Note and Credits! See what the following Companies owe on (useless) Premium Notes: Continental, organized in 1866, $275,336 44; New England, organized in 1844, $1,843,497 84; North Western, organized in 1859, $625,292. Some of these Companies have lately assumed the grave and questionable responsibility of advertising under their officers' signatures that their notes or loans would be offset by dividends. (See Barnes' Report for 1868.) In order to cancel their notes by dividends, they would have to assess their Policy-holders from 40 to 77 per cent.

The Reasons for Insuring

—IN THE—

NEW ENGLAND MUTUAL

Life Insurance Company,

OF BOSTON.

By the Acts of Massachusetts, incorporated into the General Statutes of 1860 and 1864, a Policy of Life Insurance for the benefit of a Married Woman, or any person or persons specified, goes to them independently of the debts and liabilities of the party who effects the policy.

An Act to Regulate the Forfeiture of Policies of Life Insurance.

Be it Enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1.—No Policy of Insurance on Life, hereafter issued by any Company chartered by the authority of this Commonwealth, shall be forfeited or become void by the non-payment of premium thereon, any further than regards the right of the party insured therein to have it continued in force beyond a certain period, to be determined as follows, to-wit: The net value of the policy, when the premium becomes due and is not paid, shall be ascertained, according to the "combined experience" or "actuaries'" rate of mortality, with interest at four per cent. per annum. After deducting from such net value any indebtedness to the company or notes held by the company against the insured, which notes if given for premium shall then be canceled, four-fifths of what remains shall be considered as a net single premium of temporary insurance, and the term for which it will insure shall be determined according to the age of the party at the time of the lapse of the premium, and the assumptions of mortality and interest aforesaid.

SECTION 2.—If the death of the party occur within the term of temporary insurance covered by the value of the policy, as determined in the previous section, and if no condition of the insurance, other than the payment of premium shall have been violated by the insured, the company shall be bound to pay the amount of the policy the same as if there had been no lapse of premium, anything in the policy to the contrary notwithstanding: provided, however, that notice of the claim and proof of the death shall be submitted to the company within ninety days after decease; and provided, also, that the company shall have the right to deduct from the amount insured in the policy the amount at six per cent. per annum of the premiums that had been forborne at the time of the death.

A Busted Bend.

She stepped upon the platform—
Her grace I can't forget—
For, oh! that Grecian bend of hers
Clings to my memory yet.
Her smile was like the sunbeam!
Her bonnet "some" you bet;
But that lovely Grecian bend of hers
Was the "heaviest" bend I met.
Her waterfall was gorgeous,
And all who saw, contend
That her grace was never equalled
By the Saratoga bend.
But, alas, for maiden beauty—
Dust will return to dust,
And the most enchanting bender
Is doomed to moth and rust.
In stooping to assume her seat,
(I hate to tell, but must,)
Some whalebone thing that stayed her up
Bent double—and then "bust."

Scene in a Hotel.—Stranger—"Have you a good, strong porter about the house?"

Clerk—"Yes, we have the strongest one in the place."

Stranger—"Is he intelligent?"

Clerk—"Oh, yes, sir, quite intelligent for a porter, we think."

Stranger—"One point more; do you consider him fearless—that is, bold and courageous?"

Clerk—"As for that matter, I know he is; he would not be afraid of the devil himself."

Stranger—"Now, Mr. Clerk, if you porter is intelligent enough to enter, and strong enough to get my trunk away from the bedbugs, I would like to have him bring it down."

Artificial Diamonds.—M. Caliste Saix, in a communication to the French Academy, describes a method of forming diamonds which he is confident cannot fail. A stream of chlorine gas is passed over fused cast-iron, forming a perchloride of iron. This volatilizes and the carbon of the metal remains intact. The carbon then, the author insists, must crystalize and form diamonds. One kilogramme of iron will produce sixty grammes of jewels; the raw material costing 29 francs, and the diamonds producing 75,000 francs!

A New Theory of the Universe.—A theory of the universe has recently been started, according to which the author attempts to show that the earth has been formed from gaseous matter, which, in the first instance, issuing from the sun, subsequently passed from the gaseous to the liquid state, and now passing into an entirely solid form; that the earth and all the other planets of the solar system are gradually approaching the sun, into which they will ultimately fall and be absorbed.

Childish Delicacy.—A lady, in one of the papers relates a sweet little instance of a child's delicate thoughtfulness. She says, "I asked a little boy last evening, 'Have you called your grandmamma to tea?' 'Yes,' he replied, 'when I went to call her she was asleep, and I didn't know how to wake her. I didn't want to holloa at grandma, nor to shake her; so I kissed her cheek, and she woke very softly. Then I ran into the hall and said pretty loud, 'grandma, tea is ready,' and she never knew what woke her.'"

The Royal Family.—Queen Victoria has nine children and twelve grand-children. Her eldest, the Princess of Prussia, has five children; the Prince of Wales, three; the Duchess of Hesse, three, and the Princess Tieck one.

Mr. Fuller, a methodist preacher, found it necessary to eke out a scanty living by selling books. He called on a lady in a parish where he once labored. As he announced his errand, the lady expressed her horror and surprise "What! Mr. Fuller, I thought you labored for souls, and not for money." Fuller replied: "A minister cannot live on souls, and if he could, he'd soon depopulate such a region as this."

A badly bunged-up Emerald Islander, in response to the inquiry "Where have you been?" said: "Down to Mrs. Mulrooney's wake, and an illegant time we had of it. Fourteen fights in fifteen minutes; only one whole nose left in the house, and that belonged to the tay kittle!"

By the following operation, says the Rural World, a fowl will be dead at once and the flesh white. Open the bill and insert a sharp narrow blade into the back part of the roof, severing the vertebrae. Then hang up by the legs, and let it bleed clean.

We once heard of a rich man who was badly injured by being run over. "It isn't the accident," said he, "that I mind—that isn't the thing; but the idea of being run over by an infernal swill cart, makes me mad."

A Western man was invited to take a game of poker, but refused, saying: "No, I thankee; I played poker all one Summer and had to wear nankeen pants all next Winter; I have had no taste for that amusement since."

A German artisan, upon his sign, thus describes in a single word his business—namely: "Hinteriadungsvertterliegeweerrpatronenhilsmf abricanterbeitenchef." Rendered into English, he is, "Manufacturer-in-chief of catridge-rockets for the Vetterli breech-loading rifle."

Sometimes in obituary notices, the newspapers gives us the causes of death. Why not the causes of marriage? We should be vastly more entertained. For instance: "After a lingering flirtation, Joe Smith to Miss Kate Fling."

A lady in Bangor, (Maine), has among her chickens one which sings a little song resembling the notes of a young canary. It sings mostly at night, after going to roost, but sometimes sings during the daytime.

The way to please a lady is to let her do as she pleases. A pleased lady is always agreeable. Husbands and others should make a large-sized mem. for reference and sundry other purposes.

The more a woman's waist is shaped like an hour-glass, the quicker will the sands of her life run out.

Indigestion has comically been defined as "the ingratitude of the stomach."

THE NEW

WEED

SEWING MACHINE!

Just completed, in SOLID STEEL MACHINERY, and combining in ONE the good of ALL!

This most enterprising Company has certainly brought out

THE BEST SEWING MACHINE EVER MADE!

And indeed is the ONLY NEW Sewing Machine, of any name, manufactured for the last eight years. Even a superficial observer can easily see that it surpasses all others, at least in the simplicity and durability of its machinery, and its remarkable

EASE OF MOTION AND MANAGEMENT.

It has few pieces, and all of steel. It makes the complete "Lock Stitch," the same on both sides, which will not ravel. Every Machine is warranted to sew from and of course can never be got out of order by "hard sewing." ☞ All repairs free of charge. Prices same as others.

PLEASE NOTICE.

The claims of the Florence Company for the First Premium at the great Paris Exposition of 1867, though seeming true in letter, is really false in spirit and intent, and calculated greatly to deceive the public. Although it did receive the Silver Medal—that being the highest award given—it was not awarded the FIRST RANK! This was awarded the Weed Sewing Machine, and to the WEED only, as being "first in the order of merit." The second place was given to an European Machine, and only the third to the Florence! But the claim of the Wheeler & Wilson Company, at this Fair, is a great outrage, both as to letter and spirit; at least so much of it as pertains to their Gold Medal upon their Family Machine, which, to speak plain, is purely imaginary, they having received—as is well known—their Gold Medal on their "Button-hole Machine," but nothing at all on their "Family Machine;" not even a bronze medal, nor indeed (what is worse) even an "honorable mention." (See official report.) See also, as to the new WEED Sewing Machine, the returns of the State Fairs of Pennsylvania, Illinois, New Hampshire and New York, for 1867, at each of which the NEW WEED "F. F." Sewing Machine was pronounced the BEST, and received the highest premium given. And so also at other Fairs, and indeed wherever the Company shall choose to exhibit the "strong points" of this really magnificent Machine.

A FEW SELECTIONS

Newark, Licking Co., Ohio,
August 19th, 1867.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith—Gents: My wife having received so much benefit from the use of your Bitters, I deem it my duty to give testimony in their favor. About one and a half years since, she had a severe attack of Dysentery or Bloody Flux, which became chronic and continued for the above period of time, baffling the most skillful physicians in the country. We finally became discouraged, and gave up all hopes of her recovery, when, by accident my attention was called to your most valuable Bitters by Messrs. Collins & Thurston, druggists, handing me one of your Almanacs. Finding them recommended for Bloody Flux, I bought one bottle and commenced giving according to directions; and before one-third of the bottle had been taken she was entirely cured, and enjoys perfectly good health at this time.

Most respectfully yours, W. D. Nutter.

Branchville, Ala., March 11th, 1867.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith, Pittsburgh, Pa.—Dear Sirs: I am hardly able to express my gratitude for the benefit I have derived from the use of your Stomach Bitters. I have been afflicted with Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia for more than five years, from which I have suffered no little. My physicians failed to give me permanent relief. I became melancholy and unhappy; my constitution was much broken down by using mercury. Accidentally meeting with one of your Almanacs, it induced me to procure a few bottles of your Bitters, which afforded me very great relief, and it is my sincere opinion that they will soon effect a permanent cure. I was pronounced incurable, and my recovery through your Bitters will be little short of a miracle. My neighbors express surprise at seeing me so much improved in health, and look upon my rapid recovery as wonderful. Gratefully yours, Robert F. Newton, P. M.

Turner, Androscoggin Co., Me.,
Feb. 22, 1867.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith—Gents: I lost my health in the army, am a great sufferer from dyspepsia and other complaints. I have commenced taking your Bitters, and fully believe they have done me more good than all the medicines I have ever taken before. Yours respectfully, B. J. Hood.

Cincinnati, Jan. 16, 1867.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith, Pittsburgh, Pa.—Gents: I have sold your Bitters for the past ten years, part of the time in a malarious district of Mississippi. Have used them myself as a protective and cure for chills, and I have known many others to do so with perfect satisfaction. I take great pleasure in recommending "Hostetter's Stomach Bitters" to the public. Very respectfully, A. G. Parker,
Of Parker & Yorstman, cor. Center ave. and Chestnut street.

Helena, Montana Territory, July 6, 1867.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith, Pittsburgh, Pa.—Gents: We have sold your Bitters for three years in this Territory, and can truly say it is one of the most popular and valuable remedies. There is no one preparation that has a larger sale, or that gives more general satisfaction in this locality. Yours, &c.,
Parchen & Paynter, Druggists.

Chenoa, Ill., Oct. 25, 1867.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith—Gents: We have sold your Bitters for 16 years. We have found it to give universal satisfaction. We sell more of it than any other Bitters, and take pleasure in recommending it to the public.
Yours respectfully, Miller & Bostock.

Spraker's Basin, July 19th, 1867.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith—Gents: I have been afflicted with Scrofulous and Bilious Complaints for a long time, and physicians could give me no relief. By the advice of your agent I purchased a bottle of your Stomach Bitters, and, strange to say, one bottle cured me entirely. I would recommend it to all who are afflicted in the same way. Respectfully yours,
Salmon Allen.

Salem, Ohio, May 1, 1867.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith—Gents: I have prescribed your Bitters in a great number of cases of Dyspepsia, and as a Tonic in cases of general debility, and have found it to answer the most sanguine expectations. Respectfully,
S. D. Hardman, M. D.,
Formerly Physician to the Cincinnati Marine Hospital; Member of the London Medical Society of Observation, &c.

P. S.—I send you the above voluntarily, and you may use it as you desire.

Spraker's Basin, July 29th, 1867.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith—Gents: For the past two years I have been afflicted with Chronic Disease and weak stomach. I have tried a great many medicines, but I have received no benefit. I was at last advised to try your celebrated Stomach Bitters, and to my great astonishment it has entirely relieved me. I have recommended it to others, and it has always given perfect satisfaction. Joel O'Brien.

The above writer is personally known to me, and I can vouch for the correctness of his statement. Henry Cohen,
Postmaster, Spraker's Basin.

Anderson C. H., S. C., April 22, 1867.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith, Pittsburgh, Pa.—Gents: About the 15th of December last, I had a severe attack of Rheumatism, which debilitated my frame so much that I was reduced to a mere skeleton. I was recommended by my cousin J. J. Baker, to try a bottle of your celebrated Bitters. I did so, and must confess that I am now in good health, and attribute it entirely to your Genuine Bitters. Very truly yours,
John Davis, jr.

Kenton, Hardin Co., Ohio, March 8, 1867.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith—Gents: I have been using your Bitters for the last ten or twelve years, and confidently say they are all you recommend them to be. So necessary have I found them to my health that I cannot do without them. Yours respectfully,
Lewis A. Miller.

Virginia City, Montana Ter.,
July 6, 1867.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith, Pittsburgh, Pa.—Gents: I have been severely afflicted with Heartburn and Dyspepsia, and have tried almost all remedies, but without avail. Finally I was recommended to try your Stomach Bitters. I did so, and, after using a few bottles, was entirely restored to health. I now weigh 180 pounds.

I still continue to take your Bitters, and would not be without them. I consider them the only efficacious remedy of the kind in the market. When taken as directed, they will always prove a sovereign remedy to those afflicted with Dyspepsia or diseases of a like nature. Respectfully yours, M. Marx.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith—Gents—It is with the greatest pleasure that I recommend your Stomach Bitters to the public. I think it the best Bitters of the day. It is especially adapted to the South and West, where biliary derangements of the liver are prevalent. Ten years' experience in the use of compounds as curatives compels me to give your Bitters the preference that its popularity merits.

A. Angle, M. D.

Gallatia, Saline Co., Ill.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith—Gentlemen—I have practiced medicine for many years, and have used your Bitters in a number of cases with great success, and take pleasure in recommending them to the public in general.
Very respectfully, J. Smith, M. D.

Mattoon, Ill., Jan. 21, 1865.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith—Gentlemen—I sell more of your Stomach Bitters than of any other medicine. Parties who have tried them speak in very high praise of their excellent virtues. I have used them myself, and prescribe them with unparalleled success. Very respectfully yours, G. T. Gilner, M. D.

N. B.—The genuine Bitters are sold in bottles only. All persons who pretend to sell the article by the gallon or barrel are imposters, and the stuff they offer is a worthless and probably poisonous counterfeit.
